INTERNATIONAL INVESTMENT SYMPOSIUM
North American - European - Russian Investments
Miami, Florida, USA
April 23 - 26, 2005

This Symposium will provide our sponsors with unique opportunities to target an exclusive audience. We anticipate attendance of \pm 300 international business and investment-oriented persons, including decision-makers, businessmen, bankers, lawyers, accountants, and other professionals interested in promoting investment and business between North America, Europe and Russia. Attendees will include leading members of the international investment business community, various Bar Associations, the Florida International Bankers Association, Chambers of Civil Law Notaries and Trade organizations, and high level governmental officials from Europe, Canada, Russia and the United States. This Symposium is designed to foster the development of investment initiatives and long-term relationships.

The Symposium's various conferences, receptions, and dinner will occur over four days at several locations, including Villa Vizcaya - a beautiful villa that is a tribute to Italian Renaissance architecture and art, with a beautiful museum and more than 10 acres of classic gardens.

This Symposium offers personalized interaction and high-level expertise. Networking sessions will provide contact opportunities. Furthermore, printed books and materials consisting of the Symposium's speeches and written presentations will be distributed to participants and also available for purchase.

In order to maximize the benefits derived from such invaluable exposure, sponsors will be permitted to display and advertise appropriate products and services. Sponsors may also contact Symposium participants directly, thus enabling them to make personal presentations. The Symposium organizers are confident that our sponsors will receive unique access to an exclusive group of international investment and business decision-makers, as well as to qualified professionals.
